What sites have I missed?

When I had to leave 2 sites were fairly new, the Main Webquad site, and the Battlefield 2 site. I have been searching around, but something is wrong and I haven't found anything, or I'm just a 'tard.

Yup, like Ricky said, we're all one big site now. That way, we can show more gaming footage and post videos, focus on the clan, etc. :) What do you think of the new place since the last time you were here?

It is very cool, and I love the fact that I can post game ideas whenever I want to and have some feedback from others that are as big a gamer as I am.

Yea the game idea project is popular. I see new posts on it frequently.

But you guys made no new sites after I left? Other than this one of course. :)

We made a Frontlines site and some other sites but it was WAY TOO much to manage. So, we just made it into this site. Were you expecting more sites? Or do you like it to be one site as it is now?
